

The U.S. government is delaying immigrant applications for 39 countries – just because of where people were born.

What is the USCIS pause?

The U.S. government has stopped making decisions on applications for:

- Green cards
- Work permits
- Travel documents

for immigrants from 39 countries already legally inside the U.S.

Who is doing this?

A federal agency called USCIS* processes
immigration benefit applications. Right now, many cases are being left in limbo indefinitely.

United States Citizenship and Immigration Services

Why it matters:

When these cases are paused, immigrants can:

- lose their jobs
- be separated from family
- lose their status.

Lives are being put on hold.

Why should you care?

This is happening right now, and most Americans have not heard about it.

Policies don't change unless you speak up.

You can help in 2 minutes:

- Call your representatives
- Email them
- Share this post